Tearing Paper Awesome Fine Motor Activity - The OT Toolbox

My kids love tearing up paper. This is really fun in the fall when the leaves are falling outside but its cold and raining, we tear up old sales flyers and tossing them up in the air and pretend we're throwing leaves, they love covering each other up or me with paper (leaves). Its a great fun activity and keeps them active for awhile.

Tearing And Pasting Of Paper

Tearing And Pasting Of Paper

Tissue paper, for example, is easy to tear and fun to crumple up. It makes an interesting texture and it can offer a new auditory dimension to your toddler's project. It's also delicate, so care must be taken when gluing or the colors bleed and it will start to stick to her fingers.

print it on bright colored paper if you are short on time and the student can just tear and paste the letters on the big letter A. Ideas to Make this Activity Harder If you want to strengthen the muscles of the hands and fingers even more, print this tear and paste worksheet on heavy, card-stock paper.

Tearing is the act of breaking apart a material by force, without the aid of a cutting tool. A tear in a piece of paper, fabric, or some other similar object may be the result of the intentional effort with one's bare hands, or be accidental. Unlike a cut, which is generally on a straight or patterned line controlled by a tool such as scissors, a tear is generally uneven and, for the most part ...
